

ENUNCIATION EXERCISES:

Exaggerates the use of the lips without uttering a sound and have others try to guess what is being said. This same idea may be carried out for yourself before a mirror.

For articulation, the following tongue-twisters make excellent practice until the entire exercise can be read without error in THIRTY SECONDS:

1. Amos Ames, the amiable aeronaut, aided in an aerial enterprise at the age of eighty-eight.
2. Some shun sunshine. Do you shun sunshine?
3. Fine white wine vinegar with veal.
4. Bring a bit of buttered brown bran bread.
5. Geese cackle, cattle low, crows caw, cocks crow.
6. Eight gray geese in a green field grazing.
7. Six thick thistle sticks.
8. Lucy likes light literature.
9. A big black bug bit a big black bear.
10. Peter Prangle, the prickly prangly pear picker, pick three pecks of prickly prangly pears from the prickly prangly pear trees on the pleasant prairies.
11. Theophilus Thistle, the successful thistle sifter, is sifting a sievelful of unsifted thistles, thrust three thousand thistles through the thick of his thumb. Now if Theophilus Thistle, the successful thistle sifter sifting a sievelful of unsifted thistles, thrust three thousand thistles through the thick of his thumb, so that thou, in sifting a sievelful of unsifted thistle thrust not three thousand thistles through the thick thy thumb. Success to the successful thistle sifter
